

DISTANT DESTINATION

Where you been now, where you going?
Seems you've never settled down
Such a Distant Destination
So long old friend, see you around

If we were only starting out now
We could choose a road without the pain
But that's only wishful thinking
Every road you take turns out the same

Don't know when we'll talk again
Don't know much about anything at all

A cold street corner conversation
I know I'm only talking to myself
Contemplation, Deep reflection
Looking back that's all that's left
